

KENDALL C. WRIGHT

President and Founder

Entelechy Training and Development, Inc.

In synopsis, Kendall C. Wright is the "Actualizer." As an internationally acclaimed speaker, author, and facilitator, Mr. Wright leverages his innovative insights and extensive "real world" experience to help organizations and individuals conquer business/life challenges. Mr. Wright is Founder and President of Entelechy (En·tel'ah·key), Training and Development, Inc., a full-service leadership competence development firm based in West Chester, OH.

Actualizing Leadership and Motivation. He has empowered tens of thousands of managers, supervisors, and leaders across North America, South America, Europe, Australia, and Asia. Mr. Wright's instructional and training methodology is practical, engaging, and efficacious (it works). He consistently earns the respect and endorsement of his audiences, clients, and meeting planners.

For more than three decades, Mr. Wright has studied and taught the strategies and secrets of His clients are classified by 3 Cs – Corporations, Community Leaders, and Churches. The list includes Fortune companies, government agencies, national associations, and educational institutions.

The fundamental tenets of his leadership philosophy and practices hinge on the power of pro-activity:

- What you ignore becomes more
- What you tolerate will soon take over
- What you challenge gets changed

Kendall C. Wright is a thought-provoking three-time author. His motivating and compelling first work, Affirming and Confirming SuccessFUL™ Living: How to Cultivate A SuccessFUL™ Perspective, has become an instant classic among its many fans. Mr. Wright also contributed to the dynamic anthology, Conversations On Success, along with Les Brown, Nido Qubien, and James Kouse. Mr. Wright's third work entitled, Leadership Soul: 21 Soulful Leadership Lessons from Motown Hits, provides the insights, instruction, and inspiration to expand and enhance your leadership skillset.

Mr. Wright has been honored by many professional, business, and international organizations for his outstanding skills and service. He has also been recognized as one of the "Outstanding Young Men in America." He is listed among the "International Who's Who of Professionals." Additionally, Mr. Wright hosted The 60 Second Slice of Success, a daily radio segment on WCIN.

His articles have been published in several regional business publications. A familiar guest on television and radio, he continues to confirm his position as an expert on human dynamics in business/life.

Mr. Wright's drive and commitment to excellence were spotted early in his career. Excelling in the role of instructor, he was quickly promoted to career development counselor, then to assistant director of education. Mr. Wright served four years active duty in the U.S. Army, where he was an exemplary soldier and leader, graduating as Honor Graduate of his PLDC (Primary Leader Development Course.) Additionally, Mr. Wright earned three oak clusters for each the Army Accommodation Medal and the Army Achievement Medal. He was first runner up for the Soldier of the Year recognition at Ft. Bliss, Tx.

After completing his military service, Mr. Wright assumed executive responsibility as Corporate Vice President for one of the largest propriety education systems in Ohio and Kentucky. From there, he moved into consultancy, where he designed and delivered programs for a variety of organizations across the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico. Again he climbed the corporate ladder to the executive level, to the position of Vice President of Education and Training, and set the standard of excellence for the training staff.

Today, Kendall C. Wright, "The Actualizer," heads Entelechy Training and Development, Inc., where he assists individuals and organizations in the actualization of their leadership competence.

Mr. Wright earned a Bachelor's degree from the University of Dayton in psychology with minors in sociology and communications. He earned a Master's degree in Human Resources Development with a concentration in Management from Webster University.

Kendall C. Wright serves the broader community in various capacities. He is Chairman of the board of trustees for the YMCA. Mr. Wright is an active member of the West Chester Liberty Chamber Alliance, having served as both a board member and past co-chair of the Leadership 21 program. Additionally, Mr. Wright is a member of the Association for Talent Development and Past President of the National Speakers Association, OH chapter.

Mr. Wright is an ordained minister and serves as an Associate Pastor at the United Missionary Baptist Church, where he oversees Christian Education and leads bible study sessions for adults.

Kendall C. Wright

"The Actualizer"

Moving from Possibility to Reality.....

Mr. Wright is married to Marva; they have four adult children.